The objectives are to:

Emphasize collaboration and cooperation rather than competition

Provide regular opportunities for group work and the development of social skills

Create life-long learners

Facilitate understanding and action as the goals of learning as opposed to rote knowledge

Design integrated curriculum focused on thematic units

Help our students learn to develop problem-solving and critical-thinking skills

Integrate community service and service learning projects in the daily curriculum

Emphasize learning by doing and provide hands-on projects and opportunities

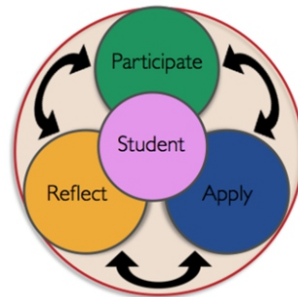

For the attainment of the objectives mentioned here we lay due emphasis on different learning methods through active participation in various social, athletic and artistic clubs and societies.

I CAN LEARN

At SMCS, we believe that students learn better when they take the initiative to apply concepts to practice, to solve real problems, to make decisions, and to reflect on the consequences i.e. Experiential Learning.

Metacognitive approach is a focal point of learning at SMCS Enhancing the ability of thinking about thinking among students, reflecting on what he/she learnt and on his/her way of learning.

Observational learning techniques are also used to improve student learning outcomes, produce desirable behaviors and enhance student motivation and self-perception.
